I. AIMS

1. This Policy helps Champion School to fulfil the legal duties with which schools must comply when teaching Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education. It aims to ensure that the RSE curriculum:
 - a. Provides a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
 - b. Creates a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships, and to develop the skills to discuss these with sensitivity
 - c. Prepares students for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of mental, physical and emotional health, and high standards of hygiene
 - d. Helps students develop feelings of self-respect, self-esteem, mutual respect, confidence, tolerance and empathy for themselves and others
 - e. Prepares students to make informed, reasoned and responsible choices and develop a strong moral code
 - f. Teaches students appropriate facts and vocabulary about their bodies, puberty, sexual development, health and hygiene
 - g. Promotes a healthy lifestyle.

II. THE LAW

2. Champion School must provide RSE to all its students, under Section 34 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017.
3. In delivering its RSE curriculum, Champion School must have regard to guidance issues by the Secretary of State, under Section 403 of the Education Act 1996.
4. Champion School have obligations under the Equality Act 2010, including:
 - a. A duty not to discriminate against the nine protected characteristics that are set out by the Act (age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation)
 - b. The Public Sector Equality Duty, which requires public bodies to have due regard to the need to:
 - i. Eliminate discrimination and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010;
 - ii. Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who don't;
 - iii. Foster good relations across all characteristics, and between people who share a protected characteristic and people who don't.

III. POLICY AND CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

5. This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, students and parents/carers at Campion School. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:
 - a. Staff Consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
 - b. Parent/Carer Consultation – a consultation paper was published on the Campion School website with a draft of this Policy and all parents/carers were given a two-week window to respond
 - c. Student Consultation – through the use focus groups, students were asked about specific elements of the RSE curriculum, and given the opportunity to share their wider views on these areas
 - d. Ratification – following the consultation process, this Policy and our RSE Curriculum was ratified by the Governing Body.

IV. ROLES, RESPONSIBILITIES AND TRAINING

6. The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the Headteacher to account for its implementation.
7. The Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw students from non-statutory components of RSE.
8. Teaching staff are responsible for:
 - a. Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
 - b. Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
 - c. Monitoring progress
 - d. Responding to the needs of individual students
 - e. Responding appropriately to students whose parents/carers wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE.
9. Teaching staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with their Line Manager in the first instance. Such cases can then be brought to the attention of the Headteacher.
10. Training will be offered to staff through various sources throughout the year to ensure they are confident to deliver the RSE curriculum.

V. WHAT IS RSE AND HOW IS IT DELIVERED?

11. RSE is key to the emotional, social and cultural development of students. It teaches them about:

- a. Families;
 - b. Respectful relationships, including friendships;
 - c. Online and media;
 - d. Being safe;
 - e. Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health; and
 - f. Physical and mental wellbeing.
12. These topics are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of students based on their home circumstances: families can include single parent families, LGBTQI+ parents/carers, families headed by grandparents/carers, adoptive parents/carers, foster parents/carers amongst other structures.
13. These topics are also taught within the context that some students may have a different structure of support around them, for example: looked after children or young carers.
14. RSE does not promote sexual activity and, whilst it encourages equality and respect for all groups, it does not pressure students to adopt beliefs or practices that are inconsistent with their values, which may be linked to their faith, culture or another aspect of their background.
15. Framework:
- a. The Department of Education requires all secondary school students to learn about specific RSE topics by the end of secondary school. These requirements are listed on Appendix A of this Policy
 - b. Champion School's RSE Curriculum (Appendix B) has been consulted on in line with Section III of this Policy – "Policy and Curriculum Development". The curriculum is a live document, so it will be reviewed and updated as appropriate
 - c. Champion teaches its RSE curriculum as part of Life Skill Days. Biological aspects of the RSE Curriculum are taught within the Science Curriculum and other aspects are included tutor time and school assemblies
 - d. The primary lead for RSE at Champion School is Mrs Julie Gardner.

VI. SEND STUDENTS

16. It is Champion's policy that SEND students should follow the same RSE curriculum as all other students.
17. Where appropriate, and to ensure that the RSE curriculum is accessible for all Champion students, teaching will be differentiated, and content will be adapted to meet the needs of SEND students.
18. When delivering RSE to SEND students, Champion will be mindful of:
- a. The SEND Code of Practice
 - b. The additional vulnerability that SEND students can face, to exploitation, bullying and other issues

- c. The potential need to tailor content and teaching to meet the specific needs of SEND students at different developmental stages.

VII. THE RIGHT TO WITHDRAW

- 19. Parents/carers have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of the sex education delivered as part of statutory RSE up to or until three terms before the child turns 16.
- 20. After this point, if the student wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, Campion School will arrange this.
- 21. This process is the same for students with SEND, however, in exceptional circumstances the Headteacher may take the specific needs of a SEND student into account when making this decision.
- 22. Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix C of this policy and addressed to the Headteacher. The Headteacher will discuss the request with parents/carers and take appropriate action.
- 23. A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the student's educational record.
- 24. Alternative work will be given to students who are withdrawn from sex education.

VIII. MONITORING IMPACT

- 25. The impact of RSE is monitored through learning walks, the staff appraisal process and day to day management or communication with colleagues, students and parents or carers.
- 26. Students' development in RSE is monitored by Form Tutors and House Learning Leaders as part of Campion's pastoral system. It is also assessed through the completion of student evaluation forms as part of Life Skill Days.
- 27. This policy will be reviewed at least every three years by the Governing Body. At every review, the policy will be approved by the Governing Body.

APPENDIX A: Department of Education Requirements

By the end of secondary school, pupils should know:

TOPIC	CONTENT
Families	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • That there are different types of committed, stable relationships. • How these relationships might contribute to human happiness and their importance for bringing up children. • What marriage is, including their legal status e.g. that marriage carries legal rights and protections not available to couples who are cohabiting or who have married, for example, in an unregistered religious ceremony. • Why marriage is an important relationship choice for many couples and why it must be freely entered into. • The characteristics and legal status of other types of long-term relationships. • The roles and responsibilities of parents with respect to raising of children, including the characteristics of successful parenting. • How to: determine whether other children, adults or sources of information are trustworthy: judge when a family, friend, intimate or other relationship is unsafe (and to recognise this in others' relationships); and, how to seek help or advice, including reporting concerns about others, if needed.
Respectful relationships, including friendships	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The characteristics of positive and healthy friendships (in all contexts, including online) including: trust, respect, honesty, kindness, generosity, boundaries, privacy, consent and the management of conflict, reconciliation and ending relationships. This includes different (non-sexual) types of relationship. • Practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships. • How stereotypes, in particular stereotypes based on sex, gender, race, religion, sexual orientation or disability, can cause damage (e.g. how they might normalise non-consensual behaviour or encourage prejudice). • That in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including people in positions of authority and due tolerance of other people's beliefs. • About different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders to report bullying and how and where to get help. • That some types of behaviour within relationships are criminal, including violent behaviour and coercive control. • What constitutes sexual harassment and sexual violence and why these are always unacceptable. • The legal rights and responsibilities regarding equality (particularly with reference to the protected characteristics as defined in the Equality Act 2010) and that everyone is unique and equal.
Online and media, including internet safety and harms	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Their rights, responsibilities and opportunities online, including that the same expectations of behaviour apply in all contexts, including online. • About online risks, including that any material someone provides to another has the potential to be shared online and the difficulty of removing potentially compromising material placed online. • Not to provide material to others that they would not want shared further and not to share personal material which is sent to them.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What to do and where to get support to report material or manage issues online. • The impact of viewing harmful content. • That specifically sexually explicit material e.g. pornography may present a distorted picture of sexual behaviours, damage the way people see themselves in relation to others and negatively affect how they behave towards sexual partners. • That sharing and viewing indecent images of children (including those created by children) is a criminal offence which carries severe penalties, including jail. • How information and data is generated, collected, shared and used online. • The similarities and differences between the online world and the physical world, including: the impact of unhealthy or obsessive comparison with others online (including through setting unrealistic expectations for body image or how people may curate a specific image of their life online); over-reliance on online relationships including social media; the risks related to online gambling including the accumulation of debt; how advertising and information is targeted at them; and how to be a discerning consumer of information online. • How to identify harmful behaviours online (including bullying, abuse or harassment) and how to report, or find support, if they have been affected by those behaviours.
Being safe	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The concepts of, and laws relating to, sexual consent, sexual exploitation, abuse, grooming, coercion, harassment, rape, domestic abuse, forced marriage, honour-based violence and FGM, and how these can affect current and future relationships. • How people can actively communicate and recognise consent from others, including sexual consent, and how and when consent can be withdrawn (in all contexts, including online).
Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How to recognise the characteristics and positive aspects of healthy one-to-one intimate relationships, which include mutual respect, consent, loyalty, trust, shared interests and outlook, sex and friendship. • That all aspects of health can be affected by choices they make in sex and relationships, positively or negatively, e.g. physical, emotional, mental, sexual and reproductive health and wellbeing. • The facts about reproductive health, including fertility and the potential impact of lifestyle on fertility for men and women. • That there are a range of strategies for identifying and managing sexual pressure, including understanding peer pressure, resisting pressure and not pressurising others. • That they have a choice to delay sex or to enjoy intimacy without sex. • The facts about the full range of contraceptive choices, efficacy and options available. • The facts around pregnancy including miscarriage. • That there are choices in relation to pregnancy (with medically and legally accurate, impartial information on all options, including keeping the baby, adoption, abortion and where to get further help). • How the different sexually transmitted infections (STIs), including HIV/AIDs, are transmitted, how risk can be reduced through safer sex (including through condom use) and the importance of and facts about testing. • About the prevalence of some STIs, the impact they can have on those who contract them and key facts about treatment. • How the abuse of alcohol and drugs can lead to risky sexual behaviour.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How to get further advice, including how and where to access confidential sexual and reproductive health advice and treatment.
Changing adolescent bodies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Key facts about puberty, the changing adolescent body and menstrual wellbeing. • The main changes which take place in males and females, and the implications for emotional and physical health.
Mental Wellbeing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How to talk about their emotions accurately and sensitively, using appropriate vocabulary. • That happiness is linked to being connected to others. • How to recognise the early signs of mental wellbeing concerns. • Common types of mental ill health (e.g. anxiety and depression). • How to critically evaluate when something they do or are involved in has a positive or negative effect on their own or others' mental health. • The benefits and importance of physical exercise, time outdoors, community participation and voluntary and service-based activities on mental wellbeing and happiness.
Physical health and fitness, including healthy eating	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The positive associations between physical activity and promotion of mental wellbeing, including as an approach to combat stress. • The characteristics and evidence of what constitutes a healthy lifestyle and maintaining a healthy weight (including the links between an inactive lifestyle and ill health, such as cancer and cardio-vascular ill health). • About the science relating to blood, organ and stem cell donation. • How to maintain healthy eating and the links between a poor diet and health risks, including tooth decay and cancer.
